

The One Missing

For The Sky

As I sit in the comfort sun,
And I know what I have done
Makes me feel like I'm alone.

And as the sun is shining on,
And I know that I've been wrong
Makes me feel like I'm alone.

Now a cloud covers the sun,
But I know when it is gone,
I still will feel so lonely.

Now the sun will shine all day,
Yet when it fades away,
I will feel more more lonely.

So much hate, so much anger,
So many things to be cleared,
So much hate, so much anger,
So many friends have disappeared.

Now the sun has changed to moon,
Happened much too soon,
But now I don't feel lonely.

Even though there's noone there
I hear "friend do not despair, have been lonely all my life..."

So much hate, so much anger,
So many things to be cleared,
So much hate, so much anger,
So many friends have disappeared.
